Important to Sheriffs.

Owing to a misapprehension of th law for conveying convicts to the penitentiary on the part of sheriffs, we pub lish, for their guidance, the following opinion of the Attorney General at the request of the Auditor, in whose office the opinion has been on file for some days: STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA, OFFICE OF ATTORNEY GENERAL, RALEIGH, Feb. 17, 1877.

Somuel J. Love, Auditor : Dear Sir: I am in receipt of yours of this date asking my opinion 'as to whether a sheriff is entitled to compensation for a guard in conveying a less number than three convicts to the penitentiary, under chap. 107 laws 1874-'75.'

In my opinion the words 'not to expend one ground for coverable or ceed one guard for every three prison-ers" admit of but one construction, and that construction is clearly indi-cated by the words themselves. A sheriff is not entitled to compensation for a guard in conveying a less number than three. If he was so entitled the Legislature would have so declared. So it seems to me that it necessarily follows he would not be entitled to to compensation for a guard of two persons, for a less number of prisoners than six, and so on, "for every three prisoners." The law contemplates that the sheriff will assume his proportionate part, at least, of the responsibility incidental to the duty of guarding prisoners.

I have the honor to be,

Your obedient servant,

THOS. S. KENAN. Attorney General.

Fire Last Night. Last evening, about 8:30 o'clock, the alarm of fire was raised on Fayetteville street. The cause was soon ascertained to be the burning of the frame part of one of the ice-houses in the rear yard of the premises of A. W. Fraps, Esq., Fayetteville street. The burning roof was soon torn down and the flames sup_ pressed before communicating with other contiguous buildings, of which there are several. The fire department turned out promptly, and the Victor (colored company) soon got a stream on the burning timbers and straw. Mr. J, with a hand pump in saving an adjacent icc-house from catching. It was very fortunate that no wind was stirring, as there are in the yard a number of frame structures and a good deal of inflammable matter, and a very disse-trous conflagration would have resulted. The origination of the fire is involved in doubt, some thinking it the work of an incendiary, while others are of the opinion that it was caused by some one throwing in the stump of a lighted cigar, which ignited the straw. There was a large quantity of ice in the house, which was doubtless melted to a considerable extent. Mr. Fraps' loss may be roughly estimated at about $200.

Raleigh Graded School. At a meeting of the trustees of the graded school, held yesterday afternoon it was resolved to make another appeal to the public spirit of our citizens in behalfof this important institu tion. Some pecuniary aid is absolutely nccessary to keep the school in operation until the 1st. day of June, the time of the completion of its ten months session. Unless this session is completed no help can be obtained from the Peabody fund, which has been furnished on that condition. Mr. W. J. Young, the treasurer of the trustees, and Capt. Dugger, the principal of the school, will, during the present week, wait on such of the citizens as are able to give and who have not heretofore contributed.

We earnestly recommend this matter to the favorable consideration of all. Gov. Holden and Wesley Whitaker Esq. tendered their resignation as trustees of the school, and Maj. W. H. Bagley and

The next copy of the Supreme Court Reports of North Carolina will contain a case which has no precedent in this State. It is the case of H. A. Londor, Jr., and the commissioners of the town of Pittsboro, Chatham county, against Aaron G. Headen, and the basis of the action is that Headen was elected constable of the town and refused to serve. Suit was thereupon instituted against him in a justice's court to recover $25, given by Battle's Revisal, chapter 3, section 23, against any person who, being elected or appointed town constable, etc., shall refuse to qualify or act. The justice gave judgment against the defendant, who thereupon appealed to the Superior Court, which reversed the ac-tion of the magistrate, giving judgment for the defendant for costs. The plaintiffs carried the case to the Supreme Court, where it was heard at the recent term of that tribunal. Messrs. Bushee & Bushee appeared for the plaintim and J. H. Headen, Esq., for the defendan This court overruled the judgment the Superior Court, giving judgmen against the defendant. Judge Rodman filed the opinion, in the course of which he says: "It must frequently happen that the duties of certain officers, especially those connected with the preservation of the public peace and the collection of taxes, such as sheriff, constable, tax-collector, and the like, will be so disagreeable.

dangerous or unpopular that no fit man will willingly undertake them for the compensation attached to the office. But the public welfare absolutely requires that they shall be performed, and by fit men. Hence it may become necessariant. essary to resort to a sort of civil conscription to fill them. No citizen can be injured by being required to perform a public duty to which all are liable, and no one, however great his abilities or fortune, should consider himself degraded by being required to perform the duties of any office useful or necessary to the public

We are kindly permitted by Attorney General Kenan to make the above extract from the opinion in the case. It is truly a refreshing thing, in this age of greed for office, to learn of one man who swears that he will not have office and changes not, preferring to pay $25 rather than be bulldozed by his admiring countrymen into serving them in a distinguished position to which they by their ballots had called him.

The honors conferred upon the Messrs. Fairbanks & Co. at the various International Exhibitions entitle them to the distinction of Champion Scale Builders of the world. GRANT said "damn the Supreme Court," and decency was shocked; but since the decision of the grand commission on the presidential question, we are inclined to think he had a better appreciation of the material composing that august tribunal than we or the country generally had.

THE Supreme Court dismissed Turner's injunction against the swapping of the Chatham Railroad bonds. The Senate refused to repeal the act authorizing the swap. And the House agreed with the Senate. The last of the bonds, we understand, have been exchanged; and the end of the "House Bill 422" agitation has been finally reached.

*Majorities were given for Tilden in these States but counted out by the Judas P. Bradley returning board.

THE President has struck the shackles from Louisiana's limbs; and proclaims to the world that henceforth "the people of Louisiana are as free in their affairs from federal interference as the people of Connecticut, and that there will be no more disposition to interfere with them than with the people of New York." Good for Grant; but why didn't he say so before? Tilden and millions of Democrats will not thank him for locking the door after the horse has been stolen. Had Grant spoken before the November election as he has within the last few days, the Returning Board could never have accomplished their rascally tricks. But we should rejoice over the liberation of Louisiana. A good deed is better late

THE Graded School is in need. It will be a shame to Raleigh to let it go down. Already it has done great good; its capabilities for the future are unmeasured, if it be properly sustained. Should the graded school bill now pending in the House pass that body, there will, we understand, still be a deficiency of several hundred dollars in the fund necessary for its support. This deficiency should be made up out of the city treasury. The necessary amount can be saved by a reduction of expenses for running the municipal government. We believe the public would applaud if the Board of Aldermen will cut down the police force from eighteen to twelve men, and appropriate the amount thus saved, $300 per month, to the city graded school. It will be an undying shame upon us if we suffer this good institution to go by

LAST OF GRANT.

"It is an ill wind that blows no good." The inauguration of Hayes ends the accursed administration of Grant. We should rejoice over this. It is a long stride onward towards good government to get rid of the beastly tyrant, who for eight years has mis-ruled this country and brought upon the government disgrace at home and abroad. But for Grant, the carpet-bag villainies practised on a helpless people would never have been heard of. But for his despotic interference in Florida and Louisiana to shield the Returning Boards while they manipulated the returns, Tilden would have entered the White House to-day, and the grand era of reform in National affairs so long wished for by all honest citizens would have begun, with to-morrow's sun. Upon his guilty head therefore rests the responsibility of this triumph of fraud, quite as much as upon the more infamous heads of the immortal eight. Without the help of his mailed hand, the people of Florida and Louisiana could never have been robbed of their votes; and the count to-day would have stood Tilden 196, Hayes 173. Samuel J. Tilden received a majority of over two hundred and fifty thousand of the votes actually cast by the whites and blacks, and of the white vote he received a majority of over a million. It was Grant who robbed him of this majority; and while we are damning the returning boards and the electoral commission, we should not forget the man who by an unlawful use of the military power of the government made it possible for the conspirators to succeed in their

Grant's last act throws in a stronger light than even the injustice of his administration. withdraws the military from the support of Gov. Packard. He tells Packard, in effect, "you have done our dirty work; you elected Hayes for us; we protected you with our soldiers while you were doing the job; now, that we have no further use for you, you can shift for yourself." We are remimded in this of the robber chieftain, who, when he had secured the spoils to himself, turned upon his comrades in crime and drove them off, abusing them for a set of villains with whom he scorned to asso-

In withdrawing the props from under the Packard government, Grant tacitly admits that it is a usurpation, no longer to be countenanced, much less upheld by the power of the army. What is this but an implied admission that Tilden was justly entitled to the electoral vote of Louisiana? Tilden and Nicholls were in the same boat there: | Cambridge. they received about the same vote; and if one was elected, so was the other. If we needed evidence to convince us that Hayes and Packard did not carry Louisiana, Grant's action on Friday is suffi-

For thus relieving Louisiana, Grant is entitled to no credit. He permitted the usurpation to stand, as long as it served his own partisan purpose. And besides, it will not escape notice that Grant issued his orders to Packard and Augur, not until he knew that the army appropriation bill passed on Friday contained a clause which forbid the use of the army to support Packard. He makes a virtue of necessity, and snatches laurels that Hayes was seeking. In. deed it may be that Grant, who has no liking for Hayes, has deliberately cut down the Packard usurpation, in order to prevent Hayes from doing so. He knew that it was the purpose of Hayes to do this thing; and he must have realized that such an act by Hayes would have reflected severely upon his own administration, throughout which he had propped the carpet-bag monstrosities of the South.

This last act of the retiring President is the shrewdest stroke of policy he has ever made; and Haves will not thank him for it, though the people of Louisiana will. Grant has, without intending it, put the seal of condemnation upon his whole administration, which, from beginning to end, has been disgraced by his persistent efforts to sustain in the South governments that were hateful to our people, and to uphold in power the Packards, Kelloggs and Chamberlains.

OUR DELEGATION.

The New York Herald has an editor whose genius for coining expressions is wonderful. In one short editorial he speaks of the "irreconcileables" as "miscreant fillibusters," "crazy Democratic fillibusters," "fanatic fillibusters," "idiotic Democratic fillibusters," "demented fillibusters," and "obstruction lunaties." Turning to the list of those who fought such a gallant fight, in the House of Representaties, to prevent the consummation of the great outrage upon the Descrats of the United States, we find among them nearly the entire representation of North Carolina, viz: Messrs, Ashe, Davis, Robbins, Scales, Vance and Waddell.

These gentlemen may be called miscreant, crazy, fanatic, idiotic, demented fillibusters and lunatics by the Hayes papers of the North; but the people of North Carolina will esteem them more highly than ever for "standing for the right" under such trying circumstances and against such overwhelming odds.

THE London Times looks with no favor upon the Hayes election; and expresses a very general sentiment in the statement that all public men who do not regard politics as "a gambling, tricky game," will receive Mr. Haves

NOTES AND OPINIONS.

The New York Sun fixes Hayes' rank as an orator a little below that of Grant, and adds: "Grant is sometimes facetious, but never pious."

decent Republican ever believed that

Mr. Tilden had been a party to any such transactions as these manufactured dispatches would indicate. Some laborers digging a cellar in the upper part of New York came across skeleton of a man who had evidently been buried hurriedly, the head being but a few inches below the surface. The coroner thinks the bones had been in the ground about twenty-five year, but nobody recollects anything that would suggest whose bones they were. It is said that Judge Wright, the associate of Judge Willard in the Supreme Court of South Carolina, fears to decide in favor of the Hampton government, as to do so would bring upon him the danger of personal violence. Being a colorod man he had been looked upon as the only remaining hope of the Chamberlain party. His life even has been threatened by the colored people.

A memorial was signed by all the Republican Senators to-day urging Hayes, if declared President, to retain Don. Cameron as Secretary of War. The memorial assumes that Pennsylvania will be represented in the Cabinet, an honor to which, it is claimed, the State is justly entitled; and still further, that Cameron is the undoubted choice of the Republican party, and his selec-tion would insure to the benefit of the Administration and of the country.

The Haymount Question. [Fayetteville Wide-Awake.] The bill to extend the corporate limits of the town, so as to take in Haymount, has been defeated in the Sen ate. We notice that Mr. Troy took strong grounds in favor of the bill, and next day after it was defeated he made an effort to have the vote reconsidered in order that he might make another effort to secure its passage; but the Senate refused to reconsider. As it was a question in which our home readers were especially interested and considerable anxiety manifested, we have published Mr. Troy's remarks in full on the subject in our Extra of today, from which it will be seen that he was fully alive to the importance of the question. While Mr. Troy fully acknowledges the Haymount people as being good and worthy citizens, he has also defended the town people in a for-cible manner, claiming the great injustice of their being required to bear the burden of the railroad debt to the exclusion of the Haymount people, who helped to put the debt on the town. Our Senator's just tribute to the good citizens and Democracy of Campbellton was- appropriate, deserving and who aid, and shows that the speaker was not unmindful of the great service rendered by that people in the late campaign. His position that the legislation of the State should be for the protection of the more dependent portion of the community, was eminently correct, and is another indication that our Senator considers himself the representative of the people without regard to condition or station in life.

THE ISSUE IN SOUTH CARO-

Anxiety Over the Decision of the State Court-Recautation of the Doubtful Judge-The Se-vere Alternative.

[Special Dispatch to the Baltimore Sun.] COLUMBIA, S. C., March 1.—The crisis of the struggle in the Supreme Court over the Governorship will be reached to-morrow, and the whole State is feverto-morrow, and the whole State is feverish with anxiety as to the decision, which up to to-night has been a matter of doubt. Chief Justice Moses, who is slowly recovering from his recent attack of paralysis, is enfeebled mentally and physically, and though he had distinctly stated his position as favoring Hampton, he has during his illness been constantly under the malign influence of his son, the notorious robber Governor, and the Republicans are boasting to-night that he has changed his views. Associate Justice Willard, a northern Republican, is known to hold the opinion that Hampton is the only legal Gov

Republican, is known to hold the opinion that Hampton is the only legal Governor, and cannot be bought, bullied or coaxed to take the contrary view.

Thus the decision of the question which for South Carolina overstadows in interest even the Presidential result may rest with the third judge. Associate Justice Wright, a coal black negro, who has been subjected to great pressure for the past W. k by the corrupt crew of office-bolders who support Chamberlain, and it is said has promised his decision to both sides. He certainhis decision to both sides. He certainly went so far in concurrence with Willard as to sign a decree in Hampton's favor, but from the best information at-tainable to-night it seems likely that he will rescind his action to-morrow and give a decision for Chamberlain. If so the decree of the court will be a nugatory. The people will never submit to the Chamberlain crew. They will insist on Gov. Hampton or military government. Nothing less than a garrison in every county could enforce the authority of Chamberlain's appointees. It is note-worthy that while the Chamberlain treasury has remained absolutely empty all three of the Supreme Court judges have been regularly drawing their sala-ries from the treasury of the Hampton government.

MIDNIGHT .- I have just verified the hint conveyed in my previous dispatch, the decree in favor of Hampton was actually filed to-day, signed by Willard and Wright. It was signed by both justices on Tuesday, and would have been filed and published on that day, but for Wright's earnest request for delay, on the plea that its publication then would seriously endanger his life at the hands of persons of his own race and party. His request was complied with, and the decision remained in the custody of the court. Heantime all the leading Republicans of the State combined to intimidate and cajole Wright. Bowen hurries to Washington to bring telegraphic influence to bear, and among the expedients tried was the sending of a band of negro women to pray a favorable decision on suppliant knees. Wright yielded to-day, and asked Willard for the order, that he might erase his name. Willard refused on the ground that the order was now the final judgement of the court. Weight then judgement of the court. Wright then filed with the clerk another opinion, to which was appended the following re-

"Having attached my name to an order discharging the petitioner in this case on the 27th ultimo, after more ma-ture deliberation believing that the orders should not have been made. I now hereby revoke, recall and cancel said or-der so far as my signature may have given it sanction, and substitute the foregoing opinion in its stead. J. J. Wright, A. J. S. C. The new opinion thus filed by Wright is merely a rehash of Elliott's argument in the case on the Chamberlain side.

EXCITEMENT AT THE TREAS-URY. A Man Attempts to Shoot a Female Clerk--She is Said to Be His Wife--Details of the Affair.

'[Washington Union, March 2.]

Yesterday, about noon, the employe of the Treasury Department, in the neighborhood of the Treasurer's office. were startled at the sound of two shots in one of the hallways. The shooting, it seems, was done by a man named John Diltz. Walking up to the messenger at the door of the Treasurer's room, he asked him to carry his card to Mrs. Mary E. Storer, a clerk in the Redemption Bureau. The messenger complied with his request, and the lady made her appearance in the hall, where Diltz advanced to meet her, and, after a few words had passed, drew a revolver and shot at her. The first shot missed, and he was on the point of firing a second when his arm was thrown up, the ball burying itself in the door-post close above Treasurer Wyman's head, who was coming out of his room.

Captain Cobaugh, of the Treasury police, took charge of Diltz and carried him to the fifth precinct station-house, and there delivered him to Lieutenant Skippon. The lady who was attacked Mrs. Storer, as soon as she saw Diltz draw the weapon, turned from him and rushing toward the nearest staircase descended to the basement and thence to her room, where she asked and obtained leave of absence, and started for home immediately. She lives on Maryland avenue near Tenth street, and has been an employe in the Treasury for ten years past, having been appointed there in 1866, from New York.

When Diltz was first taken to the station he appeared stupid and confused and there was an unnatural glare in his eyes. It was at first supposed that he had taken poison and was then under the influence of the drug; but Dr. Walters, after an examination, satisfied him-self that such was not the case. The prisoner acted in a strange, unmeaning manner, and would occasionally make some incoherent remark about "Mary." The prisoner, whose real name is Diltz and not Little, as has been stated, is a native of Michigan, where he amassed quite a sum of money by farming. He erved in the late war in the 1st Michigan cavalry, ane first became acquainted with Mrs. Storer in Alexandria. Quite an attachment sprang up between them and he has long shown a desire to marry her. He had an attack of brain fever ast summer, which his friends think has deranged his mind. He came to this city about three weeks ago, and renewed his attentions to Mrs. Storer, and it was because of her refusal to listen to his offer of marriage that led to the act of yesterday.

AIR THE BANKS OF THE DAISIES." when first I saw young Molly shritched beneath the holly, st asleep, foreninst her sheep, wan dreary st asiech, foreithst ner sneep, wan dreary summer's day. Wid daisies laughin' round her, Hand and foot I bound her, en kissed her on her bloomin' cheek, and softly stole away.

But as, wid blushes burnin', riptoe I was turnin', rom sleep she starts and on me darts a dreadful lightnin' ray.

My foolish flowery fetters
scornfully she scatters, nd like a winter sunbeam she coldly sweeps

But Love, young Love, comes stoopin' O'er my da sies droopin', doh! each flower, wid fairy power, the rosy oy renews; en twines each charmin' cluster links of starry luster, wid the chain enchanting, my colleen

And soon I met young Molly, Musin' melancholy,
Wid downcast eyes and startin' sighs, along the meadow ban's;
And oh! her swellin bosom
Was wreathed wid daisy blossom, like stars in summer heaven, as in my arms
she sank. -[London Spectator.

Time for Liquor Elections Postponed.

May 15, Tuesday, Kittrell's.

The Senate passed a bill yesterday providing that elections on the question of license or no license, in places where they are ordered by the county commis- succeed Chandler in the Interior Desioners to be held, shall be on the first partment. Thursday in September, and not on the first Monday in May-the time for the election of municipal officers. Mr. The London Times on Return-Dortch objected, saving that the bill would cause dissatisfaction in Raleigh, where there is a proposition to vote in people of Raleigh who had this movement in hand, whereupon Mr. Dortch went through. We suppose it will pass the House and, if so, the temperance campaign is postponed.

Reduction in the Cost of Supreme Court Reports.

It will be a matter of interest to the that a bill has passed the House reducing the price of the Supreme Court Reports from $8 to $3 per copy. Hitherto these books have cost each lawyer in the State $16 per year; henceforth they will cost him but $6. This reduction in the price of the reports destroys the commission hitherto made by Attorney Generals on the sale of the books, and to somewhat compensate for this the Attorney General is allowed in this bill $750 as Reporter of the Supreme Court. The discrepancy between this salary and the commissions hitherto made is still very considerable as against the Attorney General, but Col. Kenan, so far from raising any objections to the bill, favored its passage.

Renovation, Not Prostration. Renovation, Not Prostration.
Did any enfeebled human being ever become strong under the operation of powerful cathartics or salivants? It is sometimes necessary to regulate the bowels, but that cannot be done by active purgation, which exhausts the vital forces and serves no good purpose whatever. The only true way to promote health and vigor, which are essential to regularity of the organic functions, is to invigorate, discipline and punify the system at the same time. The extraordinary efficacy of Hostetter's Stomach Fitters in cases of debility or irregularity of the organs of digestion, assimilation, secretion and d scharge, is universally admitted. Appetite, good digestion, a regular habit of body, active circulation of the blood, and purity of all the animal fluids, are induced by this superb tonic and corrective. blood, and purity of all the animal nature, are induced by this superb tonic and corrective. It has no equals, moreover, as a preventive of chills and fever, and other types of malarial disease. To emigrants and travelers it is paticularly serviceable as a medicinal safeguard.

WASHINGTON. Good-Bye Packard--The State Quo Order Revoked -- The City

Filling Up -- A Cadet and Circus Company Among the Attractions--Congressional and Political.

Washington, March 3.—The following telegram has just been sent to Gov,

"NEW ORLEANS, March 3, 1877.

Gor. F. T. Nicholls, New Orleans: "The President says he sent a dispatch to Packard Thursday notifying him that troops could no longer be employed to uphold either claimant and that he does not believe that Packard will attempt any offensive operations. The President sent the dispatch so that he might have time to retire his pretensions if so disposed. The President says instructions have been issued which cancel all orders for the presen vation of the statu quo, and that neithe you nor Packard are bound to observe it: that he means the people of Louisiana are as free in their affairs from federal interference as the people of Connecticut and that there will be no disposition to interfere with them any more than with the people of New York. The President concurs with us that you immediately issue a proclamation urging protection, amnesty and peace. Being asked if a posse executing a process of Nicholls court would be interferred with by military, he replied no more than in any other State. Being asked if Nicholls' officers should take possession of April 17, Tuesday, Holy Innocents, the offices in the State without violence would there be any interference, he replied there would be none; that the military would only be used, as it has any of the States, to overcome mobs too formidable for the civil power or the foregoing dispatch of yesterday to the President who has revised it with President. his own hand and authorizes us to state that it is, in its present form, absolutely correct. (Signed) E. A. BURKE. R. L. GICSON. E. J. ELLIS. WM. M. LEVY. The town is steadily filling up. The calvalcade of a circus, which happens to be here, and a handsome company of cadets from some Ohio military school, are parading this morning.
